

...

Peter Newell a (now retired) member of the NSW constabulary must always be remembered as one of, if not the most innovative lure makers of his time. Most of the lures produced in Tenterfield (and of that matter a notable portion of those made elsewhere in Australia) owe something somewhere to styles and designs Peter Newell brought to life.

...

Brett Campbell is something of a new kid on the block, being younger than the rest, but this reflects in a restlessness which has translated into a new surge of innovative designs reminiscent of the early days of his mentor and friend, Peter Newell.

...

Warren Steptoe